Continuation of 11. does NOT place the application in condition for allowance because:

1) Applicant's comment that the examiner's statement with respect to the last step of claim 43 of "selecting a specific industry code identifying said selected industry" is not persuasive because: (a) this step is well known in the industry and would have been obvious to use the code for simplication purpose as cited by the examiner on page 4 of office action 5/9/06. There is no hindsight use but this is merely general knowledge which was within the level of ordinary skill at the temi the claimed invention was made. (b) This is further supported in the specification page 10, lines 4-5 "The SIC is well known in the industry and a discussion thereof is thus omitted from the present discussion". and (c) Moreover, this last step has no significance on the scope of the claim since the analzying of the business solution and to perform ROI analysis has been carried out in the respective previous step above and complete the scope of the claimed invention. It's not clear how "selecting a specific industry code identifying said selected industry" is related to the previous step and has any significant weight when the business solution has been found previously.

2) In response to applicant's argument that the examiner's conclusion of obviousness is based upon improper hindsight reasoning, it must be recognized that any judgment on obviousness is in a sense necessarily a reconstruction based upon hindsight reasoning. But so long as it takes into account only knowledge which was within the level of ordinary skill at the time the claimed invention was made, and does not include knowledge gleaned only from the applicant's disclosure, such a reconstruction is proper. See In re McLaughlin, 443 F.2d 1392, 170 USPQ 209 (CCPA 1971). The citation of SARNO and FRIEDMAN are merely general knowledge which was within the level of ordinary skill at the temi the claimed invention was made for the well known benefit as cited on page 5 and 8 of the office action mailed on 5/9/06.

3) Other arguments have been addressed on pages 9-10 "Response to Arguments" of office action filed 5/9/06 and not repeated here for simplication.
